$48 WEEKLY 'NUFF

SALARY FOR HUBBY, SAY COLLEGE GIRLS

Hallsville—Coucher college girls have just converted to their own satisfaction, the charge made by speakers at the recent eugenist convention in New York that college girls can't afford to marry unless they can have many comforts and luxuries.

A referendum vote taken among the 192 seniors showed that they were of the opinion that a couple could marry safely and live in a city on an income of $48 weekly.

One girl thought she could live in comfort at about $15 a week, while another, who evidently had given the subject careful consideration by making out a budget, said she was willing to take a chance at $350 a year, if she had a child.

Only six girls figured they would need $4,000 a year or over. Twenty-four made estimates of $2,000. Four thought they might be able to struggle along on $1,500.

One senior estimated it would cost $3,000 a year in Washington or New York but only $250 in middle western states. Another thought $2,500 would be needed if she were the wife of an army or navy officer.

Almost every one emphasized the point that the success of the venture would depend largely on economics and good team-work by husband and wife.

Favor Ford Proposal for Muscle Shoals

Washington, Nov. 18.—Ford's offer for private operation of the government's nitrate and waterpower projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, under the recently modified American investment statute, was submitted to Secretary Weeks, was carefully reviewed Friday by the war secretary and army engineers, preliminary to a conference with Mr. Ford's advisers late in the afternoon. Secretary Weeks said he hoped an agreement might be quickly arrived at and would be, he believed, if Mr. Ford was willing to make certain additional modifications in his proposal. Although the secretary declined to comment on these, pending the meeting of the conference, it was understood the principal change he desired involved an increase by Mr. Ford in the amount of money he was willing to allot for completing construction work on the dams at Muscle Shoals.

CHAPTER LXXVIII.
MY FAMILY ENTERS.

"This is perfect nonsense," said my aunt, "how long are you going to keep this up?"

"I like it here," I protested.

In answer to this I had a sort of put-down—a polite, but nevertheless a sound that completely showed my distinguished aunt's disapproval of my house.

"Your father will be here in half an hour," she remarked next.

"Connie, go ask Ellen to come here," I said to the baby, who went through the house. "We heard her voice," Ellen, my mother's maid, said. "Humph, speaks well for her age," my aunt remarked.

"Connie's very clever," I said quickly.

"Connie you mother!"

"Yes, she did that herself. I suppose it's the curious notion of a child to eat someone's mother." I take a greater place in her life than her own mother. "You had her this summer, you see, while her mind has been forming."

"Humph! What do the people about here say to this?"

I never see the people about here. Ellen comes occasionally. She's the only one who doesn't believe—

My aunt turned away with a look of thought. Gossip because of the child—and that red-headed artist always hanging about you.

"Auntie, you shouldn't disapprove of gossip. You were just this moment telling me about the Lester scandal."

"That's different," replied my aunt, "without mentioning in what way one sort of gossip differed from another. She was saved by the appearance of Ellen, who had stopped for her best clean apron before appearing where my aunt was."

"My father will be here for dinner. Better have June in to help, and fix things particularly nice tonight."

Father did not come in half an hour, as my aunt said, but Ellen did. She was up the path towards the porch before she saw aunt Harriet. Then she hesitated and flushed, but came on. Her eyes took in my guest with frank curiosity. Harriet's silver color dress, her white woolly coat with its black embroidery hung over a chair, her Parisian hat, her rings and her white gloves—all the details that went with the stunning car that stood before the house.

Ellen stayed a moment, feeling and looking awkward, and went away.

"So that's the only friend you have in this awful town," aunt Harriet remarked audibly enough for her to hear, I thought. "What's wrong with the others?"

"They snubbed me," I said, and smiled. "They think I'm immoral because I left Win, and because I'm

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Kent Forbes

SLENDER ANKLES

There are various artificial methods which claim to make the ankles slender. Personally, I do not think much of them. One method is to "bake" the ankles, the idea being that the extreme heat melts the surplus flesh. I have seen very serious minded women sit with their ankles in some sort of electrically heated oven looking for all the world like capertiters of seventeenth century people sitting with their feet in the stocks. However, this idea did not occur to any of them and they went on having their ankles baked thin and being frightfully serious about it.

The woman who wants to make her ankles more slender does not have to go in for anything as elaborate as this. She can massage her ankles very vigorously morning and night, rolling off by the friction of her hands a great deal of surplus flesh. She can wear high shoes in the cold weather which, by their constant friction, reduce the size of the ankles. She can wear dark colored silk stockings, which by shadowing the ankle make them more slender than they are. She can choose shoes which give a proper support for her heels so that the ankles are not under a constant strain. All these things help in making the ankle shapely.

Incidentally, wool stockings, though thick in themselves, do not make the ankles seem thicker. Wool stockings and low broad-heeled Oxfords are the most sensible type of footwear for this season.

Model—It is not unusual for one breast to be larger than the other. The muscles in your face seem to tighten up when you grow excited. Simply because you are very nervous. If you will remember this, you can relax yourself and let your face be slightly effort of your will—even when you are excited or upset.

Ignore—Your shoulder blades stand out in back because you are too thin—they are about 15 pounds underweight. Build yourself up by eating more, by drinking rich milk, or taking olive oil.

The Owner of the Property

William Dobbs had owned the spacious lot in 1911 Wild, residential suburb, for more than a year. This will show the extent of the boy's final rupture over his property. On a card that he had tied to a great maple tree, he had written:

ANTS, CRICKETS, AND OTHER
BUGS NOTICE!
Trespassing Forbidden on My Land.
By Order, William Dobbs, Owner.

For a few weeks he spent every night pacing his 100 by 100 feet, adding it of little stones, projecting buildings of many styles of architecture, wondering what he owned down below a mile or so, and then lying on his back to study his sky. He never left without hugging his maple tree. Although he had been sent out of town on business for nearly a year, his heart remained faithful to his property, and he hurried there as soon as he returned.

He was surprised and slightly offended by the number of new homes that had sprung up in 1911 Wild. Then he frowned. Smoke was rising from his lot. A girl was raking leaves.

"But you are on my property," he told her.

"How else can I stop this nuisance?"

"Nuisance? Have you ever seen flies?"

"But they blow all over our lawn, and down our cellar steps."

"Just the same, you're on my property."

The girl's lip trembled. "That's what I get for being nice to your tree. I saw your notice on it—to the bugs, and last spring I wrapped cotton and fly paper around its trunk to protect it from ants and caterpillars. I pictured you a different sort of a man."

William Dobbs struck himself on his chest. "I was wrong. I was foolishly angry," he said. "Please stay."

"But you are on my property."

minute I am afraid you are going to have me arrested, and then I'll urge me to suggest a house for you."

"Well, you see, you've won me over, by your care of my tree. Once I am at all sentimentally inclined, I move change, so you may expect me to be friendly forever. You can stand on

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man of 19 years and I am keeping company with a young girl of 17. This girl I am speaking of is a very nice girl, but she is a little bit of a trouble maker. She is a very nice girl, but she is a little bit of a trouble maker. She is a very nice girl, but she is a little bit of a trouble maker.

How could I break her bad habits? I think she is too young to go out. I like her as a friend, but that is all. M. R. M.

You should follow in your inclination in regard to taking the girl to movies, etc. If you don't want to go, say so. She certainly should not talk about permitting other young men to make love to her. It might do her good if you frankly told her you did not admire her for being promiscuous.

Perhaps you can help the girl by telling her in a kindly way about the things she does which you do not admire. Unless you are gentle and tactful you will merely succeed in hurting her feelings and doing no good.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been married 17 years and have seven children. The last three are under three years old. I have been in a family of very unpleasant people on my husband's side. They are always trying to cause me trouble and never help me in any way. When they come to see me they sit around and let me do all the work and then they go away and talk and write about me. I always fix the best dinners I can afford and hardly sit down while they are at my house.

My father-in-law has always been very unkind to me. He is a man with plenty, but never gave my husband a helping hand at anything, turning him down when we rented a farm, saying he didn't want to be bothered with helping. Now he is bed-ridden, not expected to live. My husband snubs me by day and sits up at night when it is his turn. They send over to us for help if they need anything extra.

I have lost my mother and want to live a Christian life. Do you think I ought to go over and see him? My feelings are very bitter against them. Please advise me if I should go and help them. I have to do without clothes and don't even get to church. A WORRIED MOTHER.

To go to your father-in-law in a spirit of bitterness would only make matters worse. If, however, you can conquer yourself and with a heart full of love and forgiveness go into his home to comfort and help, you will gain much by it. As long as you feel hatred for your husband's people, a heavy cloud will hang over you and you will not know the joy of a loving heart.

Poverty often pinches the body and wealth sometimes pinches the soul.

BOY ATHLETES ARE URGED TO BE FAIR

Play the Game Squarely and You'll Win in Life, Pierson's Plea

A plea for clean athletics made by Rev. M. C. Pierson, showing of the moving pictures of the contest between the 1919 and 1920 teams and the presentation of athletic trophies formed the Thursday night program at the Y. M. C. A. of the "Father and Son" work observance of one of the greatest athletic contests ever staged were made by the national war work council of the Y. M. C. A. The contest was held at the Y. M. C. A. of the United States and the Y. M. C. A. of the United States took first place in 1920. The pictures were shown with projection machine of the Baptist church.

A. C. Preston, boys' work director expressed the hope that the father and son idea of cooperation would be carried out throughout the weeks, months and years, instead of only on one day.

Mr. Pierson pointed out the danger of passing day after day in a few get into the game, and too many are content to sit on the sidelines, applaud the other fellow, let him do the work and get the exercise.

Play the Game in Spirit.

The speaker said many years the star pitcher of the New York Giants, Mr. Mathewson, is a friend and former schoolmate of Mr. Pierson they having played on the same team in college. He said Mathewson was such a clean sportsman that he soon became to be looked upon as standing for what baseball should be. Mr. Pierson stressed the need of clean mind, and a clean body in order to have clean actions, and clean athletics.

"We can develop the idea of clean sports in the youth, through the Y. M. C. A. and through coaches but it all comes back to the individual on the team," he said. "He must be clean and play clean like Mathewson or he is not going to be a good sport. If there is a boy who plays a game underhanded, he may win that game, but he will not win in the greater things in life. If a boy comes clean in athletics, he will come clean in business and social life. It is not whether you win, but how that counts."

Trophies Are Awarded.

J. A. Steiner, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. presented the athletic medals, trophy and pennant won in baseball, basketball and in a track meet. The Y. M. C. A. of the United States awarded the Gazette loving cup for having won the indoor baseball league championship of the grade schools during the past year. Members of the team are: Scholastic, captain who accepted the cup for the team; Howard Krasin, Donagan, Trevonah, Granger, Plasher, McComb and Kute. Steve Sorenson.

Members of the St. Mary's church team which won the inter-church basketball league championship are E. Dawson, Daniel McCuskey, J. Clark, J. Sheridan and T. Clark.

Members of the St. Mary's church team which won second place are D. Townsend, L. Townsend, Charles Knipp, Harry Kelly, Gerald McDermott, C. Smith.

The Congregational team which won third place is as follows: Stuart Paul, Robert Bliss, Robert Grubb, Stuart Hummel, Fred Lubke, and Russell Palmer.

The winners of first place were given gold filled individual medals with their names engraved upon them and the second and third place teams bronze medals.

The banner for winning the grade school track meet was presented to St. Mary's team. Those who starred in this event were Louis Windley, Robert Crook, Frank Murphy, John Brady, Edward Kasulowaki, Robert Byrne, and Walter O'Meara.

Rev. Francis Finnegan made a short speech of acceptance for St. Mary's school.

HAY SHORTAGE IN STATE INDICATED

Figures Show Half Million Tons Less Than in 1920; More Alfalfa

Madison.—A shortage of nearly 500,000 tons of hay in Wisconsin this year is indicated by the November report of the crop service Friday. Total production is estimated at 4,118,000 tons compared with 4,723,000 tons in 1920 and a five year average of 4,577,000 tons.

The total for this year includes 3,711,000 tons of tame hay and 407,000 tons of wild hay, while last year's total was 4,244,000 tons and a five year average of 4,380,000 tons and of wild, 473,000 tons.

Alfalfa and timothy is Wisconsin's leading hay crop. This year it totals 2,244,000 tons as against 2,018,000 tons produced last year and a five year average of 2,302,000 tons. # Chicago Woman in Appeal for Child Welfare

Let us bring up children that will be a credit to the community, not a menace—an asset, not a liability.

The appeal made by Mrs. Louis Fetherston, Chicago, speaking on "Building the Child" before an audience of 75 at the Baptist church, Thursday night. A representative of the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial fund created in Chicago in 1908 for the promotion of child welfare, Mrs. Fetherston came here under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association of the Adams school.

The horrors of the World war may have borne fruit if the nation will only profit by what it learned," she continued. "We must be impressed with the startling information that one-third of the men examined for the draft were found physically unfit. The need for activity in child welfare work is therefore paramount.

It is ignorance, not poverty, that accounts for our unhealthy children. We spend lots of time and money trying to improve our cattle, registering and testing them, but not much for our children. We must break down the spirit of our old-fashioned

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have running, ringing, hissing noises in your ears to your disgust and get 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength), add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should be open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop pouring into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

SOBER NATION IN 5 YEARS—GRIMM

Circuit Judge Tells Supervisors Demand for Liquor Is Dying Out.

"They can say what they want but the appetite for liquor is decreasing and will die out in time," declared Judge George Grimm in an address before supervisors Thursday, during their annual inspection of the Rock county jail and home for the aged. "The demand for liquor is dying out in five years. It is a sober nation in five years. It is a sober nation in five years. It is a sober nation in five years."

"Public thought will result in a sober nation in five years. It is a sober nation in five years. It is a sober nation in five years. It is a sober nation in five years. It is a sober nation in five years."

"I will call a session of the grand jury if the grand jury so desires," he advised. "The recommendations of the federal grand jury are recalled by the circuit judge, who alone has the authority to call such a session."

Prison for Cullen
Satisfaction was expressed by supervisors following inspection of the Rock county jail. The institution was declared to be in the best condition in its history. As a result considerable praise was given by the board members to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cullen.

The buildings were seen to be clean and well equipped, with needed improvements.

"We are satisfied," was the expression heard from the supervisors following the inspection.

There were 75 attending the annual dinner given the board of supervisors and others. The supervisors were in extreme good humor after the feast.

Simon Smith Speaks
During the short program following speeches were made by Simon Smith, the "charter member of the board," Judge Grimm, and John J. Whitehead, with R. K. Overton presiding.

Supervisor Simon Smith left a celebration held in his home Tuesday in honor of his eighty-second birthday in order to attend the board meeting for the thirty-fifth year. He was applauded during his speech.

"I can remember when E. D. Treadway and I were on the board which purchased this property for the county," stated the Deloit supervisor. "We are all pleased with its upkeep."

Optimism for Pence
"Force of public opinion will pilot governmental representatives to some measure of success in the session to limit arms," Mr. Whitehead declared in his address.

"This conference is the result of the long, demands of public opinion, quickened by the results of the great war, for pressure was brought to bear which required the present conference," stated Mr. Whitehead. "We must not expect too much, nor can we expect too much."

Vacation Is Needed
"There are hopes that nations will take a vacation for 10 years, allowing the world to think, to rest, and see in that time what can be done without the building of battleships. It will be a demonstration of peace to allow nations to learn what peace gross they can make without burdening people with taxes for military equipment."

"There are great international questions to be settled toward the common end of the pacification of the world. We are fortunate in having foreign representatives at the session who were graduated from American universities and therefore have somewhat of an American viewpoint," said the speaker.

Stock on Farm
There was much that pleased at the county farm besides the dinner and the condition of the buildings, the care of the patients, and sanitary arrangements.

The stock on the farm has been much improved. There are now 50 Holstein there, and purebreds are gradually being introduced to improve the cattle. The farm has good pure-bred hogs, and during the last year the combined sale of hogs and cattle netted the county $2,125. The disbursements for the year amounted to $5,690, and the balance on hand June 30, 1921, amounted to $6,853. R. K. Overton, trustee, requested an appropriation of $200 for the county farm in the 1922 budget.

The trustees of the county farm are Robert Moore, R. F. Livermore, and R. K. Overton.

Seegmiller Is Ousted as Poor Relief Agent

George Seegmiller, for many years poor commissioner for the Deloit district, a B. A. R. member, was ousted from his position by the county board when it appointed Nels Benson, a former supervisor from Deloit, as the new poor commissioner for the Deloit district. The highway committee, composed of H. B. Massey, Deloit; George Woodruff, Janesville; and J. A. McCarthy, Porter, was reappointed.

Mrs. Anna Green, Evansville, was reappointed secretary to the county health committee.

Some men hurry through life as if leap year widows were after them.

NEW CREDIT HERDS ADDED IN COUNTY

Federal Man Makes Many Tubercular Tests in Vicinity of City.

Tubercular test of cattle in Rock county has been started for establishing U. S. credit herds on test farms under the direction of Dr. A. J. Knians, resident of this city, representing the United States government bureau of animal husbandry. The test is not county wide, only being made where farmers make application. The eradication of tubercular cattle within the county is considered one of the county's greatest agricultural problems. The cleaning up of the herds, wiping out tubercularism among cattle, establishing of credit herds and guaranteeing a safe milk supply for the consumer has been long deemed of paramount importance. The tubercular tests made by the government free of charge is purely voluntary and must be applied for through Dr. Knians.

Conditions of Test.
Under the conditions the farmer making application must agree to allow the test of his cattle as the government agent sees fit. When the test is applied and there is reaction among the animals, the government at once orders the afflicted animals concerned. They are slaughtered in Chicago and the farmer receives whatever the carcass sells for. Where the disease has not been of long standing, most of the beef can be sold after the rigid inspection of the packing agency of the government. Slaughtered pigs are received for this beef.

An indemnity not to exceed $10 for grade and $50 for pure bred cattle is paid by the state and national governments, each paying one-half. The farmers receive, as stated, full sale value of the carcasses.

Tubercular tests have been conducted in Barron, Lincoln and Beloit counties and considerable herds in counties near Rock. Once tested, the cattle are known as an accredited herd under government supervision and their milk products bring more. Safe milk is then assured and the consumer is willing to pay the additional costs.

Test is Valuable.
The test is also valuable for increasing the market of the county for livestock. Tested cattle have a far more ready market than untested animals, and buyers refuse to consider purchasing an untested animal. It is the big risk.

The first cost and loss is entirely dependent upon the condition of the herd. The testing is free and the government agents will remain in the county on the work for some months.

SHOPIERE
(By Gazette Correspondent.)
Shopiere—One of the finest entertainments ever given in Shopiere was that of last Friday night, when Prof. and Mrs. Miranda were at the head of the musical department at Beloit college, came out, bringing Prof. Rayer, violinist, and Miss Rayer, of the Rockford high school faculty, who has a reputation as a pianist.

Prof. Miranda is an artist at the piano both in accompanying others and in his own work, and he showed the greatest skill. Mrs. Miranda has a sweet, capable voice, and all were pleased with her folk songs and impersonation. She is especially good in children's songs.

Prof. Rayer showed his knowledge of the violin as the people's entertainer. In the classics and in his imitations, he would be hard to excel.

Miss Brady gave only a few readings but all were received with great warmth. Owing to sickness and the severe weather, the audience was small but the enjoyment of the entertainment was soon heard of and the four are promised a good audience at the next appearance here. The next number on the hour will be by Dr. Howard Musser, "The Jungle Man," December 5.

BLAINE PROCLAIMS THANKSGIVING DAY

Governor Names Nov. 24 for Observance in Wisconsin.

Madison, Nov. 18.—Thanksgiving day, Thursday, Nov. 24, is proclaimed by Governor Blaine as a day on which Wisconsin citizens should give thanks for their fortunate position in having the abundance of the necessities of life.

"All people of the world have not received the same blessings and prosperity as our people," the governor's proclamation states. "Those who have been favored with an abundance of a debt of gratitude to those whose labor has made that abundance possible."

"The proclamation in full follows: 'Custom and tradition bring to us annually a day that is set apart with a special significance for the worship of God and Thanksgiving. The year 1863 was a memorable one in the history of the world. We have been especially favored with material things. In comparison with people of other nations, where there have been so much suffering from famine and pestilence, reducing millions of men, women, and children to want and misery.'

"Favored with abundance. 'All people of the world have not received the same blessings and prosperity as our people. Those who have been favored with an abundance of a debt of gratitude to those whose labor has made that abundance possible. 'The material things come and go, but the spiritual attributes of the nation are permanent. The important thing today is to catch a spirit of unselfish devotion to the great masses of mankind. A spiritual awakening is quite as important as the use of material things because from the inspiration that we may receive from a spiritual awakening and consecrated service, we will have other things that will be of more value to us in the future than the material things on a more equitable basis.'

"America—and especially Wisconsin—is today a nation that is having for its people the abundance of the necessities of life. In abundance, and because of that abundance we should not lose sight of the suffering in other lands, and the possibilities for that suffering. If we do not lose sight thereof, we will be in a better position to enjoy God's generosity to us. 'On this day, apart to render thanks to the Giver of all things and to supplicate him to aid us in grasping the spiritual strength and assistance of making is significant and effective only so far as on subsequent days we fulfill the promises made on the one day. 'Millions in the past have died for the peace and security of the world and of civilization and it is especially fitting that at Thanksgiving time we turn our attention to the teachings of him who taught 'Peace on Earth, Good-will Toward Men.' Prayers for Peace. 'So, in the memory of the millions who gave up their lives to the God of battles for the peace of the world, we should pour out our supplication that those who died in the holy cause of peace 'Shall not have died in vain.'

"Now, therefore, I, John J. Blaine, governor of the state of Wisconsin, do hereby designate and appoint Thursday, the 24th of November, a day set apart by the president of the United States as Thanksgiving day; and I recommend that our people meet in their accustomed places of worship on that day and acknowledge their indebtedness to their God for the benefits conferred upon them and the jobs that they have received, and supplicate him to bring an understanding to the nations of the world for a better universal brotherhood, and for his guidance through the complexities of life and the problems of our state and nation."

Stock Ass'n's Active Around Mineral Point

Associations are being formed in the south-western section of the state around Mineral Point for the sale of livestock. The Iowa County Holstein association has been divided into five sections, the officers of which form the central county association. A Holstein association has been formed around Mineral Point with John D. Bennett, president and J. Roy Gordon, secretary.

A big shipment of livestock was recently sent out from Mineral Point to western breeders. One of the most vital issues before dairymen in Wisconsin is the outcome of the appeal to the Wisconsin supreme court on the filled milk bill. Testimony has been started in Madison before the supreme court with seven dairymen united to oppose the legislation prohibiting the taking of skim milk and adding oils.

Judge A. G. Zimmerman has been appointed as referee and extensive testimony has been prepared by the Wisconsin Farm Bureau through Chris Schroeder, secretary. Until the decision is made by the state supreme court, the law prohibiting the adding of coconut oil is being enforced, according to information received here.

The Voss Triple Tub Washer

The Most Complete
Washing Machine Known

Practical demonstrations are being made daily at our store, showing every working feature of this most remarkable of washing machines. You have to see it to appreciate the big stride forward that has been made in the perfecting of this equipment.

The Voss Triple Tub Washer is the development of over 44 years of experience and research in the building of family washing machines. It is, indeed, a laundry complete in itself. All three tubs are a connected unit and are self-draining, which means that even the work of lifting water or tilting the tubs is done away with. The tubs drain through a common drain direct to the floor drain.

Throughout, this washer is built to last for years, even the staves of the tub being thicker than the ordinary. The superior Voss washing mechanism is used, while the sliding reversible wringer is the most effective known. Besides, it has the advantage of a double wringer control, which, as a matter of convenience and safety, has no equal. The wringer is controlled as easily by the foot as by the hand. Controlling it by the foot, leaves both hands free for feeding the clothes into the wringer.

100,000 Wisconsin Homes

When you consider the above fact, you'll understand why we urge you to receive the valuable N.C. Green stamps on every purchase. That which receives the endorsement of so many housewives is worthy of your attention. It always pays to heed the experience of others.

Over 100,000 stamp books in Wisconsin homes means over 100,000 frugal folks are trading the wise way—the N.C. Way. Over 100,000 people who know the value of this token—the saving it returns and service it renders.

The many Janesville merchants who pay a sound discount in N.C. Green Stamps are not doing so because they desire to pose as philanthropists but because it's a mighty sound business policy for them and a substantial saving for their customers. That's all—that's enough!

Each full book of N.C. Green Cash Stamps will obtain $2.00 in Cash—$2.00 to use as you desire. That $2.00 represents a discount of definite value and is convincing evidence that it pays to "pay as you go" and to go where a discount is paid. Think it over!

POPULATION GAIN SHOWN IN SCHOOLS

Attendance Officer's Report
Lists Many New Families in City.

That the call to Janesville is so great that people from all over the United States and even Norway, Ireland and the Panama Canal Zone come here to live, is indicated in an interesting report compiled by Miss Rosemary Enright, attendance officer of the Janesville schools.

Since the census was completed July 26, there have been 307 new children from the public and parochial schools, her reports show—but 115 children have entered from outside in the same period. This is a net gain of 78 children in the city of school age. This indicates the end of the exodus from Janesville has been reached and that it is again on the road to increase its population. Miss Enright's figures show the census Sept. 30 was 4,209 instead of 4,021.

Of children entering the city schools since June, 1921, 82 were from cities of Wisconsin, including Milwaukee, La Crosse, Madison, Marshfield, Racine, Kaukauna, Clinton, and Green Bay. From Chicago, 10; from Rockford, 10; from other cities and states which lost in population, what Janesville gained were:

Worcester, Mass., 2; Minneapolis, 2; Duluth, Minn., 1; Detroit, Mich., 1; Ames, Iowa, 1; and Calumet, Mich., 1. Little Falls, N. Y., 1; Nampa, Ida., 1; Santa Monica, Calif., 1; Rugby, N. D., 1; Yantic, Conn., 1; Kansas City, Mo., 1; Rural, Louisiana, 1; Tampa, Fla., 1; Cincinnati, Ohio, 1; Dayton, Ohio, 1; Rockland, Me., 1; Gary and La Porte, Ind., 1; Dallas, El Paso and Alamo, Texas, 1; Norway, 1; Ireland, 1; and Ancon, Panama Canal Zone, 2.

The parents of the children who came here, at least, the fathers are earning their living in 56 different lines. A scrutiny of these disclosures shows some interesting facts about Janesville, as offering an opportunity for a home.

Miss Enright lists the following: accountant, packing company employee, auto salesman, blacksmith, boarding house proprietor, coal yard employee, carpenter, conductor, clothing store clerk, cloth examiner, doctor, dressmaker, domestic, dressmaker, electrician, factory foreman, gas engineer, housekeeper, harness maker, instructor in high school, insurance agent, ice man, jeweler, lumberman, loom repairer, lawyer, musician, musician, merchant, machinist, newspaperman, oil business, painter, photographer, porter, pen maker, restaurant keeper, real estate man, retail shoe maker, salesman, street worker, tinner, tool maker, tile setter, telephone operator, truck driver, factory and bank vice president, Y. M. C. A. secretary and worker.

Boys Outnumber Girls.
An interesting table compiled by Miss Enright shows the number of boys and girls in the city schools as follows: 4 to 20 and what percentage they represent in proportion to the entire number.

There are more boys than girls in Janesville of school age, according to the census. Less than one percent of the pupils are 20 years of age. The age having the largest per centage of any of school age is the 10-year group, forming 6.51 per cent of the whole. The total of the boys of school age is 2,113 as compared with 2,086 for the girls. The table is as follows:

Age	Boys	Girls	Total	Percent
4	102	93	195	.0463

Chicago.—The International Live Stock exposition, scheduled to run from Nov. 26th to Dec. 3 at the Union Stock Yards will show 200,000 horses, pure-bred cattle, the aristocracy of swine and sheep of international stock, assembled for a series of contests marking the close of the state fair and other minor exhibitions of 1921. There will be a display of fat cattle, swine and sheep prepared for the Christmas dinner of the American people. It will be considered a great event in Chicago, as practically every live stock organization in the country embraces this opportunity to assemble its membership and define future policies.

Agricultural College students of all the principal states and Canada will participate in a judging contest, a Grain and Hay show under the auspices of the Chicago Board of Trade, a demonstration by the Department of Agriculture in seed testing, parasite and insect control, and other up-to-date information will round out an event that has become of increasing importance annually to Chicago and the Mississippi Valley.

In the sphere of feminine activity a Domestic Science course has been provided. Several hundred boys and girls interested in live stock and agriculture will find a place in local contests, thereby securing a trip to Chicago, will through the arena.
